“The Feed and Read” Program

A program of the Homeless and Travelers Aid Society

The Feed and Read (FAR) Program (formerly the Albany Weekend Backpack program) provides critical support to hungry children in an effort to reduce absenteeism and keep developing children in school on track. Founded in 2014, the FAR program is a community-wide response to hunger in the Albany School System. Starting with 14 packs of food in 2014, it currently provides 625 children with food for the weekends of the school year.
